ESG CORPORATE POLICY QUALITY, ENVIRONMENT AND ENERGY

Rooted in Valgobbia and in the province of Brescia, oriented towards global markets, we adopt production and management processes inspired by the principles of sustainability, manufacturing excellence and centrality of people. We transform brass into reliable solutions serving industry and progress for the well-being of people.

With more than seventy years of experience, Gnutti Cirillo has built an industrial model unique in brass processing, characterized by complete vertical control of the supply chain: from hot forging to machining, from in-house dies manufacturing, from automated assemblies to finished (OEM) products.

Our daily actions are based on values that define who we are:

- People: our most precious capital. We value human talent by promoting safety, health, inclusion and continuous growth.
- Ingenuity: a work culture that since 1951 has distinguished us for our passion, manufacturing resilience and tailor-made industrial solutions.
- Excellence: quality as a daily commitment, through strict controls, advanced technologies and continuous improvement.
- Sustainability: we operate with respect for the environment, the territory and communities, through responsible brass management and a commitment to reduce emissions.

Gnutti Cirillo adopts an integrated management system certified according to the international standards UNI EN ISO 9001 (Quality), UNI EN ISO 14001 (Environment) and UNI EN ISO 50001 (Energy), ensuring the consistency and effectiveness of all business processes.

Our work is based on the strict application of risk-based thinking, which enables us to prevent and manage in advance risks and opportunities related to product quality, environmental protection and energy performance.

The production model is characterized by full vertical control of the supply chain, from material incoming to hot forging and delivery of the finished product, ensuring high standards at every stage. Our mission is: "to support our customers by supplying high-quality brass components, delivered with punctuality, expertise and responsibility".

Safeguarding health and safety at work is a constant priority, pursued through the continuous assessment of risks and the promotion of a culture of prevention at all company levels. Gnutti Cirillo strengthens its social responsibility by maintaining strong local roots, supporting local communities and valuing people as the central element of its growth.
